Introduction. By the time children are about 3 years old, they have already begun to form their gender identity. 1 In other words, they are aware of the fact that they are boys or girls and that there are certain behaviours, activities, toys and interests that are played with more often by boys and girls. Gender differences in children's behaviours and interactional patterns also begin to ...

Your baby's sense of smell plays an important part in his development. It's closely connected to his sense of taste, so it influences what he likes to eat. But smell also has a strong connection with your baby's emotions and plays a key role in the bonding process. When does my baby's sense of smell develop?

Young children's emotional competence—regulation of emotional expressiveness and experience when necessary, and knowledge of their own and other's emotions—is crucial for social and academic (i.e., school) success. Thus, it is important to understand the mechanisms of how young children ...

Early Childhood Teachers as Socializers of Young Children

Introduction. Vers l'âge de trois ans, l'enfant a déjà commencé à former son identité de genre. 1 Il est conscient du fait qu'il est un garçon ou une fille et que certains comportements, activités, jouets et intérêts sont plus fréquents chez les garçons ou chez les filles. Les différences dans les comportements et les façons d'interagir des garçons et des filles ...
