The Wnt signaling pathways are a group of signal transduction pathways which begin with proteins that pass signals into a cell through cell surface receptors. Wnt is an acronym in the field of genetics that stands for 'Wingless/Integrated'. Three Wnt signaling pathways have been characterized: the canonical Wnt pathway, the noncanonical planar cell polarity pathway, and the noncanonical Wnt ...

Cell signaling (cell signalling in British English) is part of any communication process that governs basic activities of cells and coordinates all cell actions. The ability of cells to perceive and correctly respond to their microenvironment is the basis of development, tissue repair, and immunity, as well as normal tissue homeostasis. Errors in signaling interactions and cellular information ...

Significance. Tumor cells are notoriously non-immunogenic and acquire properties that enable them to evade the immunosurveillance system. Here, we demonstrate that defects in cytosolic DNA-activated innate immune signaling pathways, controlled by STING, enable pre-cancerous cells to escape DNA damage-mediated cytokine production.

4. Syk-Targeted Drug Development 4.1. Syk Inhibitors. Since Syk plays a crucial role in B-cell activation and in innate immune cell-mediated immune responses, especially macrophage-mediated inflammatory responses which subsequently contribute to the pathogenesis of various diseases, several Syk inhibitors have been actively developed, some of which are currently in clinical trials to treat ...

Andreone et al. revealed a key mechanism that explains how the suppression of transcytosis occurs to control BBB permeability. They discovered a single pathway revealing that the lipids transported by Mfsd2a control the formation of caveolae and therefore BBB integrity.

ABSTRACT. Heparan sulfate proteoglycans are ubiquitously found at the cell surface and extracellular matrix in all the animal species. This review will focus on the structural characteristics of the heparan sulfate proteoglycans related to protein interactions leading to cell signaling.
